Market and portfolio review

The yield curve reversed its inversion, with long rates rising as short-term rates. Global bonds faced headwinds as longer-term yields backed up. Bond yields are still at relatively high levels, and bonds offer attractive opportunities despite tight spreads, especially for longer holding periods. Strong fundamentals underpin many fixed-income assets, which explains tight credit spreads in both investment grade and high-yield credit. Credit risk might be beneficial to take advantage of this resilient and improving growth backdrop. The diversification benefits of bank loans, which tend to exhibit similar volatility to investment grade credit but, offer greater near-return potential due to their high current yield.

Future investment strategy

The Trust generally gains its investment exposure by investing in a well-diversified portfolio of Australian and international fixed interest managers. The underlying fixed interest investments include a range of international and domestic government bonds, corporate debt and asset backed securities.
