OnePath International Shares Index

OneAnswer Frontier Personal Super

30 April 2022

Market and portfolio review

The portfolio provides exposure to developed market countries, excluding Australia, with a focus on large- and mid-cap equities. Exposure to the financials sector (-0.43%), consumer staples sector (-0.26%), and communication services sector (-0.23%) detracted from absolute performance. Health care was the largest contributor to positive overall performance during the period (+0.17%), followed by energy (+0.17), and utilities (+0.05%). From a country perspective, Japan was the largest detractor (-0.28%), followed by the UK (-0.14%), and Germany (-0.14%). Among individual securities, Tesla Inc. was the largest contributor to absolute performance (+0.26%) while Bank of America Corp. was the largest detractor on an absolute basis (-0.05%).

Future investment strategy

The Portfolio will continue to seek investment results that, before expenses, correspond generally to the underlying index. The Portfolio management team works closely with index providers to monitor any index methodology changes. There have been no changes to the objectives of this mandate as at 31 March 2022 and we do not currently anticipate any future changes.

Value and cyclical stocks could outperform in the short run as markets digest the Fed's hawkish pivot but we anticipate defensive sectors such as IT, communication services, health care, real estate and consumer staples are likely to outperform modestly over the full year.
